

Monitoring for Pests

We are all looking for ways to lead a healthier, greener life.

We choose an Integrated Pest Management (IPM) approach to managing pests. Utilizing Catchmaster glue traps and monitors are an important tool for me to offer clients an effective and environmentally sensitive approach to eradicating pests from the home. IPM has often been used in agriculture and the same principals are now being applied to homes and businesses for pest management purposes.

Integrated Pest Management requires that we:

- ✓ Identify the pest at hand
- ✓ Alter the environment, if possible
- ✓ Use pesticides as a last resort to control an infestation

Utilizing Catchmaster® glue products are important for me to:

- ✓ Be as green as possible and limit the amount of pesticides used
- ✓ Service sensitive accounts such as homes, schools, daycares, food plants, restaurants, hospitals and more
- ✓ Alert me to pest activity in your home
- ✓ Positively identify the pest at hand
- ✓ Assist me in understanding where a pest or rodent is entering your home so that I may target control to that area
- ✓ Help me to create a customized plan to keep your home and environment pest and rodent free
